

February 5,

Dear Junie:

If you'll excuse this stationary, I will write you a note.

How are you doing? Is the new job tough? I guess you like the hours, don't you?

Right now I'm sitting at my desk trying to dry off. It has been raining in sheets all day. They say that this is typical College Station weather so I guess I'll have to learn to take it.

I got a letter from Lard to-day and it enclosed some bad news. Waley met with an accident over the week-end. He and another boy in the outfit were in an automobile accident and the other boy was badly hurt. Waley managed to escape with a few cuts and he was pretty well shaken up. He was knocked ~~unconscious~~ ^{unconscious} when the car hit.

I guess I'll be in Roaston again about the 22. I hope you won't be working nights again, so we can all get together and do something. Lard and I really enjoyed this passed week end. It would have been better though if you had been along.

Well I guess that's all for now, I'll let you go. Write soon.

Love
Bill
