Somewhere In England.

My Sweet:

Just got a letter from Lard and he is doing fine. In a letter from Alvin today I found out that Ben was O.K. too and was going away to school in Maryland. So now I'm happy, very happy: my folks are well, my sweetie is still sweet hmmm, my buddies are getting the job done and so I'm happy.

Dorry I didn't write yesterday as I promised, but I was too busy. I expect a letter from you today.

Pop spoke of your morning coffees again in his letter today. I guess you two thrash out everything in those little morning talks, huh?

He said that he was going to try Zumble for a job again. If I was in his place I would keep the one I have.
He is on the ground floor now and he would be in danger of losing that place if he changes now.

Have a favor to ask you, if you don't mind. I need some 6-16 film for my camera. We are allowed to take pictures of ourselves now and I would like to get some of the boys so if you see any pick them <sup>up</sup> and I will pay you back toote suite.

I wish you ~~at~~ could have been
with me in London last time, honey,
we could have had a time, visiting St Pauls and Westminster Abbey in the day time and dancing and dining at night. It would have been like old times again. Of course the ~~orchestra~~ <sup>orchestra</sup> ~~wasn't~~ <sup>(sorry)</sup> wouldn't have been as good but that would have made very little difference with you there.

You know its a funny thing but over here you never know what day of the week it is. Today is Saturday but I just thought of it, if I had been at home all day I would have been making plans for the evening. I go to chapel on Sunday morning or I would never know when Sunday did roll around. We remember the date and that's all.

I went to see "Three Hearts for Julia" last night. Thought it was pretty good. Also saw "Gangmen" also die" and didn't like it at all.

You know what song is very popular over here right now? Of course they play "Johnny Zero", "You'll Never Know" and "Coming in on a Wing" but they are also crazy about "Marching Along Together" remember it?

I guess I'll close for now just write when you get your next chance

Love

Bill
