June Darling:

I received a host of Christmas cards and greetings from everyone. It made me feel swell to hear from all of you. I also received your letter # 11 with the definition of Christmas in it and it was a pretty definition. Also in this letter your P.S. says that it is your personal that the Pope, Ruby affair will be over soon. I've always had a feeling (gathered from what you wrote) that you never approved of the affair anyway - - - - - why? You know Ruby much better than I do and I would like to know, that is if you want to tell me.

I missed you more than usual site before last. We had a big dance to celebrate New Year. For some reason or another, I wasn't in a dancing mood. Mick was there and we had a high old time anyway.

I read the article about B-26 in Air Force that you mentioned in your letter. How does the plane sound to you. I wish you could give me a little more information about your school. I don't know just exactly what you are doing. I told you once before that it seemed to me that you were working a little too hard these days, but if you enjoy it I guess it's o.k.

I'm sorry to hear that mail service from Italy is as bad as it is from here. I guess I should be glad, though after all I should worry if you don't hear from my rivals!

We, Sweetheart, now you see why I don't write. I barely have a page and a half and I've told you all the news. So I'll just say that I still think you are the sweetest one and that I wish I could see you.

Love

Bill

P.S. If you really want to send me something, it would be most appreciated.
